

During the torchbearing, the Three Masters, along with other notable Pathfinders, taught a variety of classes, from Golarion's history to spellcasting techniques, and ran competitions like obstacle courses and a triathlon.

Your character can choose one skill about which they learned the most. For the duration of this adventure you may treat that skill as a class skill, or gain a +1 bonus if it is already a class skill.

Skill selected:

During the torchbearing, the Three Masters, along with other notable Pathfinders, taught a variety of classes, from Golarion's history to spellcasting techniques, and ran competitions like obstacle courses and a triathlon.

Your character can choose one skill about which they learned the most. For the duration of this adventure you may treat that skill as a class skill, or gain a +1 bonus if it is already a class skill.

Skill selected:

During the torchbearing, the Three Masters, along with other notable Pathfinders, taught a variety of classes, from Golarion's history to spellcasting techniques, and ran competitions like obstacle courses and a triathlon.

Your character can choose one skill about which they learned the most. For the duration of this adventure you may treat that skill as a class skill, or gain a +1 bonus if it is already a class skill.

Skill selected:

During the torchbearing, the Three Masters, along with other notable Pathfinders, taught a variety of classes, from Golarion's history to spellcasting techniques, and ran competitions like obstacle courses and a triathlon.

Your character can choose one skill about which they learned the most. For the duration of this adventure you may treat that skill as a class skill, or gain a +1 bonus if it is already a class skill.

Skill selected:

During the torchbearing, the Three Masters, along with other notable Pathfinders, taught a variety of classes, from Golarion's history to spellcasting techniques, and ran competitions like obstacle courses and a triathlon.

Your character can choose one skill about which they learned the most. For the duration of this adventure you may treat that skill as a class skill, or gain a +1 bonus if it is already a class skill.

Skill selected:

During the torchbearing, the Three Masters, along with other notable Pathfinders, taught a variety of classes, from Golarion's history to spellcasting techniques, and ran competitions like obstacle courses and a triathlon.

Your character can choose one skill about which they learned the most. For the duration of this adventure you may treat that skill as a class skill, or gain a +1 bonus if it is already a class skill.

Skill selected: